ATTEMPT AGAINST THE STATE

ALLEGES COUP DE FORCE

Paris, Feb. 7. An attempted coup de force against the Republican regime by certain political leagues is M. Daladier's description of the rioting, in a message issued to-night while terrible scenes were still being enacted.

The manifesto says that bands of men armed with revolvers and knives assaulted the police and the Republican Guards and the identity of the arrested proves that it was an armed attempt against the safety of the State.

"Thanks to the courage and sangfroid of the defenders, the objectives of the trouble-makers were not attained.

"The Government is resolved to assure by all legal means the security of the population and the independence of the Republican Regime and counts on the collaboration of the French nation. -Reuter.

LONDON, FEB. 6. A VEILED WARNING THAT BRITANN MAY BE FORCED TO STRENGTHEN HER ARMAMENTS "IF A SATISFACTORY AGREEMENT CANNOT BE REACHED," WAS GIVEN BY SIR JOHN SIMON DURING THE DEBATE ON THE BRITISH DIS-ARMAMENT MEMORANDUM IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TO-NIGHT. "We have to face the question of our own armaments," he said, "which stand on a level that must be re-examined if we are going to live in a world of unlimited armaments.—United Press.

GERMANY'S CLAIM.

Germany's claim to equal rights in armaments could not be and ought not to be resisted because there was little likelihood of world pence if one attempted to place a great country and race under superior jurisdiction.

On the other hand, no drastic solution could be found on the basis of all nations immediately abandoning all weapons denied to

Sir John Simon said that if prompt agreement was not soon reached, Britain would have consider her armament position If she was to live in a world unlimited armaments, the whole question of her defensive strength would have to be reconsidered.

SPIRIT OF REALISM.

Emphasising that the British Memorandum was not submitted to the needs and claims and anxicties of others, he declared that peace and disarmament efforts. it was presented in a spirit of running | had been conceded too late. Furrealism. Time was against the friends of ment and the British plan tempted to provide a basis for a prompt agreement.

Germany, the Foreign Secretary of war and to get concessions. said that any convention must face some re-armament by that country, but the British Government would view with repugnance a settlement which provided for equality of rights without any disarmament in any quarter.

BRITAIN'S DUTY.

It was Britain's duty, he concluded, to give a further lead as she had already offered the most striking proof of her good faith by voluntarily translating her desire for disarmament from words into deeds.

Britain was resolved to do everything possible, despite the difficulties, to bring about aninternational agreement and to strengthen every possible and practicable way the peace structure of the world and so deliver ourselves and others from the dangers and the burdens that would follow a final failure to secure an agreement.

Clorgyman's Wife Tolls Her.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS. Wherever Baby's Own Tablets are tried they give satisfaction, as is proved by the hundreds of letters received annually from grateful parents in many parts of the world. For example, Mrs. M. E. Conron, a clergyman's wife residing at Brantford, Ontario, Canada, writes;—

"Our first baby was cross and feverish, and would not take his food. We lost so much rest at night
I was completely played out. But ond day while my husband, who is a

Silver fishing is best done with two players. A small 'piece of carpet, loaded with thus, the mathematical calcula- moth balls, is cast into the room or rooms.

The silver fish, emerging from its den, claws gluttonishly at the moth balls.

After some hours, it reclines, ealised if it is remembered that sated, on the pieze of carpet, he fate of an individual is made and may then be drawn gently to a given point.

It is here that the second player comes in. He engages the silver fish's attention with "The Village Blacksmith" or "The Face on the Bar-room

The silver fish props its head on one paw, and zaes in a dazed lashion at the elecutionist.

The head player then sneaks up behind (the silverfish), grabs it by the throat, and the rest is not guitable for young readers.

We knew an expert who, without bait, caught 105 silver fish in one night, simply by reading "Gunga Din."

They came and gave themselves up in dozens.

Personally, we prefer the thrill of sea fishing to the fish on the bedroom floor. Even though you don't get as and uneconomical. The procedure is to force the dynamite down the throat of the fish, and light the fuse. Throw the fish away and run like blazes. The only fault in this method is that it coes not do the fish much good. It sort of permanently cures the fish of being a fish.

At deep sea fishing we admit we are not much good. We give up. Matter of fact, the giving up part is about all we know of deep sea fishing. Just throw the line over, if you've got the strength, and throw everything else after it. For a man getting on in yours, fishing for tiddlewinks or limpets is good, although inclined to be a blt monotonous. We do not recommend fishing for sole, as most fish have none.

Nor does sardine fishing prove too popular, as this type of fish is usually too oily, and is inclined to enuse hiccoughs. Onions are a good bait for surdines, these being usually referred to as baited breath.

Speaking of fish reminds us of the story about the male fish that tried to kiss the female fish. "Take your fins off me, you

WAR TALK

Rumour of war refuses to be silenced. If it has died down somewhat in Europe, it has flared up more violently in the Far East. The existence of any genuine foundation for alarms seems to be immaterial; almost any incident or political comment these days is speedily furnished with a bellicose interpretation. It is an unfortunate situation; unfortunate because which alone makes war between ivilised nations possible. An Duff's encounter with Tsui Yunpui in the tennis championship yesterday was, as a spectacle, a big disappointment, but it did satisfy the spectators on one point: that the former Shanghai title holder will have a very important say in the destination of the local singles crown during the next few weeks.

Against Tsui yesterday, Dufi did not bring all of his range of strokes into action, but he did vary his game sufficiently to demonstrate his complete mastery in many phases, notably flat racket drives on both hands, the chop, cut, overhead, stop volley and "kill" volley.

He is a splendidly equipped player, and produces his strokes knowledge of the most facile way an orthodox and most effective style. His forehand drive, which is made with a very short swing back, continually opened up a net campaign, and once there, Duff was a difficult man to pass. CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney Solution to Previous Contract · Problem

Good bridge players sometimes "work on" personalities. For example, in to-day's hand, played in the national contract team-of-four championship event at Cincinnati, the opening leader against S. Garton Churchill of New York was a woman. Therefore, when she opened the four of clubs against a three no trump contract, Churchill counted that as a fourth best from her longest and strongest suit, as women are more prone to make honest leads than are men.

With the four of clubs opening, the seven was played from dummy, East went in with the nine, and Churchill won the trick with the ace. The rule of eleven told him that either West held five clubs or LIVERPOOL SERVICE East had nothing left but the deuce.

South's next play was the ace of spades, followed by the deuce of spades, West going in with the West was smart enough to put the declarer to the guess immediately on the clubs, leading the six of clubs; but Churchill took the finesse.

The three good spades from dummy now were cashed, West dis-carding a diamond. Churchill dis-carded a diamond and two hearts. East dropped two diamonds and a

He now played a small diamond to the ace and then led the five of clubs, winning in dummy with the queen. East dropped the eight of

The king of clubs was played, and East was squeezed. If he dropped a heart, the ace and queen would be good, so he must let go a diamond.

Declarer did the same, and now led the jack of diamonds, throwing East in the lead, and East was forced to leadenway from his king and ten of hearts. Mr. Churchill held the queen and x, dummy holding the ace and x.

PARIS, FEB. 7.

A DEATHLY STILLNESS HAS SETTLED DOWN UPON PARIS AFTER A NIGHT OF TERROR UNPARALLELED IN A HUNDRED YEARS. FRIGHTFUL SPECTACLES ARE RELATED BY ALL EYE-WITNESSES OF THE BATTLE ON THE CONCORDE BRIDGEHEAD, WHERE MOST OF THE CASUALTIES OCCURRED.

Before dawn, it will be impossible to get a complete picture of the destruction and the cost, but the Prefect of Police has already announced that twelve persons were killed and between five and six thousand wounded, or otherwise injured.

For five hours, the Place de la Concorde resembled prevented last night from dramatic sessions in the hisa_battlefield,_in_which_a_grim_struggle_swayed_to_and. fro between Republican Guards and a mob of over thirty thousand. Time and again, it seemed that the Guards must be overwhelmed and once the mob forced its way right to the steps of the Chamber of Deputies to be met with a direct fire from troops on guard.

Scores of infantrymen filled the darkened Chamber from where the Deputies watched the frightful scenes of shooting and destruction.

Mr. Wallace Carroll, a member of the United Press staff, picked up the dead body of a citizen lying in the street and tried to lift the body into his automobile.

The crowd snatched the body away and carried it through the streets, shouting: "This is Revolution."

HUGE CROWD FIGHTS LIKE A

RUTHLESS POLICE DRIVE AT MIDNIGHT

PARIS, FEB. 7. SCENES WERE WITNESSED IN PARIS LAST NIGHT WHICH FEW EYE-WITNESSES WILL EVER FORGET. THOUSANDS WERE KILLED AND WOUNDED. NO ACCURATE ESTIMATE CAN POSSIBLY BE MADE YET. GRAVE RIOTS WERE FEARED, BUT THE REALISATION DREADFULLY EXCEEDED EXPECTATIONS.

Rioting began at dusk when crowds utterly beyond control overwhelmed the police stationed in the Place de la Concorde and wrecked kiosks and tobacco shops and set afire motor buses and private cars.

The police exercised every restraint in the early stages of the combat, during which one woman was shot dead when the police were compelled to fire inflicting heavy casualties on the rioters, who forced their way right to the railings of the Chamber of Deputies, where the Government was virtually in a state of siege. Nobody was allowed to leave the building, although a number of wounded were taken in.

HUNDREDS SHOT DOWN

As the night wore on, so the rioters were rapidly reinforced and a grim battle ensued, with the police finally firing with their revolvers right and left, hundreds falling before their bullets.

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

A new high record for the number of deaths accurring in one film is set in "Terror Aboard," picture which opens to-day at the Queen's Theatre. More than two dozen persons die, in diverse and varied manners, during the action.

"Torch Singer," produced by Paramount, is the drama of a girl who thinks she can revenge herself upon the man who hurt her by hurting others. Deserted, she has a child, which she is forced to give up for adoption. Then is born the Mimi Benton of the night haunts-n woman with little regard for men aside from what they may mean to her in the way of comfort and fame. At a time when she is all but resigned to a life of abandon, the truant memory of her child comes back to her, and then begins her long struggle to true happiness and romance.

"It's A Boy"

Your taste in humaur is almost certain to be touched by one of the three very different comedians who are stars of "It's A Boy". There is Leslie Henson, with his irresistibly ermic face, and his nolished line of West-endish farce. There is Edward Execute Horton, with his worried look, nervous manner, and Hollyword aubtlety. And there is little Albert Burdon, aggressively, North Country and broadest of the three in method. This picture will be shown at the King's Theatre, commencing on Sunday, 11th February. Albert Burdon is a popular Tyneside comedian. He is a native of South Shields and made a reputation on the music hall stage. His rapid progress has been watched by Tynnside people in particular. He made millions laugh by his funny performance in the touring revue "On the FISH AHOY!

By Edward (Tunney) Kelly.

THE silver fishing season is now open. There is a lot of thrills to be got out of this thrilling sort of fishing, and it has the added advantage that you don't have to movements of these bodies are, no go out on a messy sampan to.

Silver fishing is best done with two players. A small piece of carpet, loaded with thus, the mathematical calcula- moth balls, is cast into the room or rooms.

> . The silver fish, emerging from its den, claws gluttonishly at the moth balls.

After some hours, it reclines, called if it is remembered that sated, on the piece of carpet, and may then be drawn gently to a given point.

It is here that the second player comes in. He engages the silver fish's attention with 'The Village Blacksmith" or "The Face on the Bar-room

The silver fish props its head on one paw, and zaes in a dazed inshion at the elecutionist. The head player then sneaks up behind (the silverlish), grabs it by the throat, and the rest is not suitable for young readers. We knew an expert who, without balt, caught 105 silver fish in one night, simply by reading "Gunga Din." They came and gave themselves up in dozens. Personally, we prefer the thrill of sea fishing to the fish on the bedroom floor.

Even though you don't get as much fish from the sea, you get more thrills. We once struggled for nearly half an hour with a salmon, waich only weighed a pound. The label was torn to pieces, and the tin was dented in two places bettere we got at him.

There are other ways of getting Rod fishing, for instance. All you need is a good eye, and a fairly straight shot with the rod. Line fishing? We know a fair amount about line ushing. We have a line.

Some of us experts use a float instead of a sinker. We are not in favour of this. With a decent

Even if you don't catch the fish

Dynamiting is unsportsmanlike and uneconomical.

The procedure is to force the dynamite down the throat of the fish, and light the fuse. Throw the fish away and run like blazes. The only fault in this method is that it does not do the fish much good. It sort of permanently cures the fish of being a fish. At deep sea fishing we admit we are not much good. We give up. Matter of fact, the giving up part is about all we know of deep sea fishing. Just throw the line over, if you've got the strength, and throw everything else after it.

For a man getting on in years, fishing for tiddlewinks or limpets is good, although inclined to be a bit monotonous.

We do not recommend fishing for sole, as most fish have none.

Nor does sardine fishing prove too popular, as this type of fish is usually too oily, and is inclined to cause hiccoughs. Onions are a good bait for surdines, these being usually referred to as baited breath.

Speaking of fish reminds us of the story about the male ush that tried to kiss the female fish. "Take your fins off me, you Cod!" she cried.

This astrologer states that he is prepared to stake his reputation on the following pro-dictions: That within a very short time there will be changes with reference to the Indian Portfolio, and that an unexpected set-back—mainly political—will take place in India before May.

"In 24 Hours We Had A Different Baby." Clergyman's Wife Tells Her Experience . With BABY'S OWN TABLETS. Wherever Baby's Own Tablets are tried they give satisfaction, : as, is proved by the hundreds of letters received annually from grateful parents in many parts of the world. For example, Mrs. M. E. Baby's Own Tablets, the formula of an ominent physician who specialised for children, are a specific for infantile constipation, indigestion, colic, teething troubles, simple fever, vomiting, croup and colds. They also expel worms. Obtainable from

AMBULANCE WORK

H.E. THE GOVERNOR'S INSPECTION

Public attention was specially drawn to the splendid service provided by the St. John Ambulance Brigade yesterday, when the Hongkong and Kowloon members turned out at all full strength for inspection by His Excellency the Governor, Sir William Peel, on the Murray Parade Ground.

District Officer J. A. Ralston commanded the parade, and Commissioner A. Morris waited with Dr. W. B. A. Moore, District Surgeon, Dr. (Mrs.) Dovey, Corps Surgeon, Corps Superintendent T. K. Chak, Corps Officer A. el Arculli, and other officers to receive the Governor and Lady Peel.

His Excellency was received with the Royal Salute and proceeded in company with H. E. the G. O. C., Major-Gen. O. C. Borrett, and Commodore F. Elliott, to inspect the Brigade.

The inspection was followed by a demonstration in which the nursing divisions showed a skill and ability equal to the men, and drew the admiration of the large number of spectators who followed their movements with interest. When the "corpses" had been duly laid out and the "wounded" made whole again. His Excellency examined the work and commended several squads on the smartnoss and dispatch with which they had carried out the treatment.

FRIGHTFUL SPECTACLES IN PARISIEN RIOTS

The battle centred about the Concorde Bridgehead and the rioters made deliberate attempts to throw the police into the river, while tearing up the paving stones for use as weapons.

BARRICADES ERECTED.

All manner of obstacles were brought out and barricades erected in the Place de la Concorde, the enormous crowd resisting all efforts to dislodge them until the police lost restraint and moving forward as body with pistols blazing at random into the crowds, cleared the
